MRS. HEALEY WANTED HER RENT.

Alderman Jones thought she pursued the wrong course to get it. Mrs. Margaret Healey, of Price street, instituted a suit before Alderman Jones yesterday against Mrs. John W. Jones for rent due her for the month of April. The hearing evoked some interesting facts, pro and con. Mrs. Healey claims that she had allowed her tenants to reside in her house for a month without asking for the rent. When she did ask for it, she was given an order for the amount, $5, on the West Ridge Coal company. The order proved worthless.

After considerable delay the Joneses left the house but allowed their furniture to remain, thus preventing the further renting of the premises. Mrs. Jones stated that they had cleaned the premises and when she had gone to get the furniture it was gone, she knew not whether. Upon investigation she discovered that Mrs. Healey had sold her household goods to a second hand furniture dealer for two dollars. She was unable to pay the rent due, as she had no income sufficient and was living at her sister's home.

HOSPITAL INSPECTED.

Visited by a Delegation of the State Board of Charities. The West Side hospital was visited by a committee of three gentlemen who are members of the state board of charities on Wednesday afternoon. The gentlemen were Cadwalder Bidde, general agent and secretary, J. W. C. O'Neal, Gettysburg, and Francis J. Torrance, of Pittsburgh. They thoroughly inspected the building throughout, and although the same was in a somewhat dilapidated condition as well pleased with the condition of the institution and grounds. Its location was particularly favorable, and its usefulness had not been overestimated. The committee departed quietly as they came and none knew their destination.

FLIM-FLAMMER AGAIN.

The festive worker of the film-flam game is operating on this side. On Wednesday evening a tall, slender fellow with smooth face and high cheek bones walked into G. V. Jenkins' pharmacy and asked for a "soda." In payment thereof this "hammer" tendered a two-dollar bill. The "soda" came into play. However, Mr. Jenkins misunderstood and the fellow, realising his intended graft was not going to work, got out. Yesterday morning a second attempt was made at the same place, this time by a different fellow and was sprung upon the soda fountain clerk, Robert Bradley, the clerk, one and all, had had their instructions and of course it was a miserable failure. If he appears in your store and wants to change back again that's him and if you are not careful you will be short.

THEY TOOK AN APPLE.

Some little apples in an orchard grew. They grew to eat, as nine boys know, and what did these nine boys do but help themselves to that which grew in Joseph Lambert's orchard. Mr. Lambert's orchard is situated on Keyser avenue and he resented the treat being at his expense. Happening to know one of the nine, a warrant was issued for him and the arrest of the other eight followed. They were given a hearing before Alderman Jones last evening and fined $1.50 each on a charge of "petty larceny." Their parents, who are respectable residents of this side, paid the fines imposed upon the youths, whose ages range from 10 to 14 years.

FUNERAL OF DAVID JONES.

The funeral services of the late David T. Jones took place yesterday afternoon. The deceased was borne from his late residence on North Main avenue to the Tabernacle Congregational church, where Rev. D. J. Jones, pastor, preached an eloquent sermon in the presence of a large audience of the friends of the deceased. The minister touched upon the sterling qualities and sturdy character of the one now silent in death. The floral tributes were very beautiful. A large concourse accompanied the procession to the grave, where Rev. E. R. Lewis officiated. Interment was made at the Washburn street cemetery. The pall-bearers were Richard Thomas, Reese Lloyd, Richard Williams, John T. Davies, Samuel Rogers and Henry P. Davies.
